THE NEW YORK CENTRAL gave permission to increase fares 40 per cent. And the company may justify increases.

There are various ways of doing things. The railroad company is to use your brain and not your hands. They have been handicapped by a stupid law that forbids combining for efficiency and economy, but the main fact is that they have been content with the results of meaningless directors' meetings, instead of thinking and changing.

A FEW YEARS ago in Detroit a man without a dollar was tinkering at a queer little gas wagon with a stick. He was laughing at it, just as you would be laughing at it if you took a new idea to a railroad directors' meeting.

But today, with his queer wagon, Henry Ford transports more passengers, more miles, every day, than are carried by all the railroads of the United States with all their thousands of millions of investments—and Ford did that by using his brain.

Why don't they utilize the small-unit unit of transportation, the light engine, the no-stop before destination plan, with 100-miles-an-hour speed?

Why in heaven's name DON'T they TRY SOMETHING? The automobile has destroyed passenger traffic; why not get it back?

They remind you of a female who turned over on her back as she comes down from laying her eggs. She thinks she has explained everything when she says, "They turned me over."

ANOTHER one of ten thousand tragedies in prohibition and bootlegging.

John Buglio, driving his car with his country cousin Joseph Dentice, beside him, thought he was bound for a good time at Coney Island, and picked up two friends on the way. When they reached the Church of Our Lady of Precious Blood, in Brooklyn, one of the men on the back seat said: "Here's a bugle. Pray and pray quick."

Joe Aiello, executed by gangland last week with machine gun fire coming from three groups of concealed murderers, could not complain of his funeral. He lies in Mt. Carmel Cemetery in a coffin that cost $11,800. And we talk about "ancient days of barbarism."

MISS ALICIA PATTERSON, fearless young girl whose father, Joseph Patterson, had a machine to command in the big war, thought she would like to do something on her own account, and broke the woman's record flying from Washington to New York in 40 minutes. She deserves credit, but there is one world's record for women compared with which all others are unimportant.

WILD OIL WELL
IMPERILS CITY
IN OKLAHOMA

Cusher Breaks Loose with Flow Estimated at 2,600
Barrels an Hour.

SCHOOLS ARE DISMISSED

Fire Hazard Increases as Gas
Clouds Settle Over Business District.

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 31—Another wild oil well, only a few blocks from the downtown business district, today endangered the industrial section of Oklahoma City as it defied efforts to bring it under control.

The well, the Morgan petroleum No. 1 Stout, went wild late last night after gates and other connections were cut through by sand borne from the well by the force of the flow. Buildings in the eastern part of town were soaked with oil and low-lands were filled with gas.

The oil flow was estimated at 2,600 barrels an hour, and gas at 65,000 cubic feet daily.

Trains coming into the city from the east, were ordered stopped. Open fires in the vicinity of the well were ordered extinguished and firemen were held in readiness as precautions against fire.

The well is less than a mile from Main and Broadway, the heart of the downtown shopping district.

Five city schools were closed today, releasing 2,150 pupils until Monday. Great pockets of gas lurking close to the ground in the southeast part of town led to the closing, officials said.

Streets and roads for a mile around the well were closed.

With only a slow wind, which shifted southeast after sun-up, low-lying gas clouds intensified the fire danger. As the wind changed from southwest to southeast, the business district received a light oil spray. A wind strong enough to sweep away the gas was hoped for.

A foundry worked all night, making a "Christmas tree" huge iron tool, which, through a series of gates and valves, should hold the well.

Location Dangerous
Oil men said that because of its location the gusher was far more dangerous to the city than the Mary Sudik, which attracted national attention last spring by blowing wild for 11 days.

The well's roar could be heard nearly everywhere in the city. At times it was almost deafening downtown and on the east side, and the knocks of warning firemen awakening residents in that section of the city added to the restlessness in virtually every home in the affected area.

REPUBLICANS TO END
CAMPAIGN SATURDAY

Former Iowa Governor To Be
Principal Speaker at Two Meetings.

The final gun in the 1930 political campaign in Marion county will be sounded Saturday night when the Republican county executive committee will stage its last rally in The Star auditorium with William L. Harding, former governor of Iowa, as the principal speaker.

Harding and Governor Myers Y. Cooper will speak at an eighth district women's luncheon Saturday at 12:30 p. m. in the Hotel Harding in a premiere to the night rally. Miss Gertrude Jones of Findlay, district committee woman and vice chairman of the state committee, will be toastmistress.

The Morrow county male quartet will furnish music at the luncheon. The quartet will be accompanied by Miss Fannie Myers, prosecuting attorney of Morrow county, who is the only woman prosecuting attorney in the state. She is running for election following her appointment several months ago when the prosecuting attorney, her brother, died.

The male quartet consists of F. O. Van Sickle, candidate for representative, Paul Maxwell and O. Cline Sherman of Cardington, and Merrill Ault of Mt. Gilead.

Miss Jones is scheduled to speak on behalf of women voters at a women's rally over which Fred W. Warner of Marion, district committeeman, probably will preside.

NEED LEVY TO HOLD RATING

Failure of Three-Mill School
Tax Would Bring Cut in Teaching Staff.

MUST MAINTAIN RATIO

Thirty-Five Pupils to Teacher in Grades and 30 in High Is Rule Here.

Editor's Note—Because it is absolutely essential for the good of the community and the future of its young people that Marion's public school system be maintained unimpaired, The Star is wholeheartedly in favor of the three-mill levy for school operations which is to come before the voters in November. This levy has been in effect over a period of years and as a consequence its continuance will not increase a total city tax rate. For the purpose of explaining the great importance of voters supporting the levy proposal, a series of articles dealing with the schools' requirements will appear in these columns. One of the series follows.

A vote for the three-mill school levy next Tuesday will prevent school officials from making a necessary cut in its teaching staff and a consequent increasing of groups under one teacher.

The teacher-pupil ratio in Marion schools is one to 35 in the elementary and junior high schools, while it is one to 30 in the senior high schools. Last year in the elementary schools the number of pupils for each teacher was about 40, but with the addition of new rooms several buildings it was possible this year to cut the pupil-teacher ratio to a more satisfactory figure.

If the teaching staff needs any change, it needs more instructors rather than a reduction, it is pointed out by Superintendent George A. Bowman.

"It is our aim to keep the elementary ratio of 35 pupils to one teacher at this point or lower. The junior high school ratio of 35 pupils for each teacher is a little high for this level of work. The Harding High school ratio of 30 pupils to one teacher is satisfactory, although the number of pupils in the building is about 200 in excess of the building's capacity. The program of work is handicapped by the building's crowded condition."

Total enrollment in the city schools for the month of September was 6,304, of which 4,416 are enrolled in grades one to eight in regular elementary schools, 941 in departmentalized junior high schools made up of eighth and ninth grades in one building and seventh, eighth and ninth in another, and 947 in the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades of the senior high schools.

While the three-mill levy, the renewal of which is to be voted upon Tuesday, will provide no additional funds to take care of the schools' needs, it will prevent going in the other direction which would mean cutting down the number of teachers and increasing the groups under one teacher.

BOOSTS HOOVER

Coolidge Ascertains Administration
Has Aided Return of Prosperity.

By The Associated Press
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 31—Coolidge said last night in the course of a 15-minute radio address that the policy of President Hoover had done much to alleviate the situation arising from business conditions.

Mr. Coolidge spoke under the auspices of the Republican state committee in behalf of the reelection of Governor Frank G. Allen, Republican, and for the election to the senate of his friend and former campaign manager, William H. Butler.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM
CAMPAIGN VICTORY

Speakers Hit Republican Policies as Party Stages
Last Rally Here.

A prediction of a Democratic victory that would "sweep like a tidal wave" over the country next Tuesday was made by Martin L. Davey of Kent, candidate for governor two years ago, in the principal address at a Democratic rally held yesterday afternoon in the Marion Steam Show Co. auditorium. More than 200 persons attended.

Brooks Fletcher of Marion, former congressman; Carl W. Smith of Kenton, candidate for congress, and Thomas J. Duffy of Columbus, former chairman of the workmen's compensation commission, were other speakers at the rally, the last to be staged by the Democratic party in Marion county.

Score Republicans
The Republican party nationally was scored by Davey, who said it had failed to enforce the Sherman anti-trust law, had passed a tariff that "slapped the faces of other countries," and had failed to help the farmer.

Davey also took the Cooper administration to task for what he claimed to be a breaking of promises of its 1928 platform when, he said, Cooper pledged himself to cut expenses. On the other hand, Cooper's administration has been expensive and in 1929 spent $4,600,000 more than in the last year of the Donahay administration, Davey declared.

Failure of the Republican party to enforce the Sherman anti-trust law has resulted in gigantic mergers and combines in utter violation of the law, Davey charged.

"I am not for free trade, for I believe American business should have some protection, but the high tariff laws passed by our Republican administrations have enabled 'big business' to merge and combine to the detriment of the small business man and finally to cause widespread unemployment," the principal speaker said.

The Republican party fails to understand the needs of the common people because it works too hard to protect special interests, Duffy charged in his address. A more equitable distribution of wealth would give more stability to industry, he said.

Fletcher Hits Tariff
Fletcher charged the high tariff of the Republican party with interfering with economic law because it erected a wall that prevented normal business with the rest of the world.

The Marion man also attacked the present administration for its "hands-off" attitude during Wall Street speculation, whose crash, he said, was partly responsible for the business depression.

Dwight Morrow, former ambassador to Mexico and prominent Republican, was also present.

Two Good Men

(Will Rogers Special)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 31—Hot election in New York for governor. I don't know Roosevelt's opponent, but they say he is a fine man.

But if you want to find out about Roosevelt, go to a little town in the south, where physical affliction predominated, and ask one of them if Roosevelt would be in any way in favor of Tammany Hall corruption and for a snapper you won't be punched in the jaw by a cripple, the same thing that Roosevelt should have done to Tammany Hall.

We got two things in this country who get drunk with a little powder. One is Wall Street and the other is Tammany Hall. Neither one can stand properly, and both can beat more when they are not getting it.

KEARNS REELECTION SEEN

Democratic Claim of Victory in Southern Ohio Area Is Classed as "All Wrong."

BY JOSEPH K. VODREY
Staff Correspondent for The Star
PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 31—Ohio's Sixth congressional district has one unfailing characteristic. Year after year it predicts Democratic victories and just as consistently it goes Republican.

This year is no exception. Practically every national summary of the congressional situation places the Sixth Ohio district in the Democratic column or at least ranks it as doubtful. Nothing could be further from the true situation, for this fall the district is bound to elect C. C. Kearns, Republican congressman, for his ninth term, and will give both Senator McCulloch and Governor Cooper handsome majorities.

How Tradition Started

The Democratic tradition that clings to the district is traced back to about 1914, when a redistricting of counties was made with the sole purpose of establishing the district as Democratic. To this end, Scioto county, a stalwart Republican unit, was grouped with the less populous but supposedly overbalancing Democratic counties of Pike, Brown, Adams and Clermont. Hill and county, Republican, but not enough to be considered dangerous, was thrown in for good measure.

At this point in the narrative comes the entrance of Charles C. Kearns of Amelia in Clermont county. A campaign of exceptional ability, he stepped in and upset the best laid schemes of the Democrats. Not only was he elected for the term starting in 1915, but he was returned by Washington in seven ensuing elections.

County Candidates Present
Principles, not personalities, are involved in the present state and national campaigns, Smith said in a short talk.

Duffy praised George White, candidate for governor, and Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, candidate for U. S. senator, whom he predicted would win. He also lauded William Klingler of Lima, candidate for the appellate court bench, and Smith.

Chairman C. J. Altmaier introduced county candidates, among them being Clarence Hart, candidate for recorder; Charles E. candidate for sheriff; Russell M. Wilhelm, candidate for prosecuting attorney; Dr. Kenneth Smith, candidate for coroner; Elmer E. Parish, candidate for auditor, and Ed F. Lauer, candidate for state representative.

The Marion City band supplied entertainment for the program. The band marched to the auditorium on Democratic headquarters.

13 VOTES HERE

Democratic Chairman Challenges
Names on City Registration Poll Books.

HOLD HEARING TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Frank,
Budge C. Decker on List;
Street Workers Included.

Challenges against the registration of 13 persons here were being heard today by the board of elections, following action taken by Dr. C. J. Altmaier, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee.

The board at noon announced that two of the challenges, against Daniel A. and Mary L. Frank, were sustained, and that the names of the two will be withdrawn from the poll book of the fourth ward, precinct A, where they were registered.

Live in Florida
Testimony was introduced at the hearing to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. Frank are living in Sarasota, Fla., and therefore are not legal residents of the city. They had given their address at the Hotel Harding.

Decision on the case of Budge C. Decker, former county auditor, was reserved until this afternoon. Decker is affiliated with the office of Auditor of State Joseph T. Tracy and is registered in the first ward, precinct B, where he gives 127 Carhart street as his address.

Decker, the only challenged voter who appeared at the morning hearing, quoted parts of the state election laws to prove that he has a legal right to make 127 Carhart street, his former home, as his legal address. He has voted in the county all his life, he declared.

Negroes Challenged
Mrs. F. E. Linton, wife of W. F. Linton, who purchased the home from Decker several years ago, testified that she had given Decker permission to use the home as his voting address.

Ten Negroes who are said to be employed by local contractors in street work were the other challenged. All are registered in Ward C, precinct 2, which Dr. Altmaier claims is not their legal residence. None of them lives in the county, he declared in his challenge.

The list includes Dan Hannel, Zora Kirkland, James Burton, Robert C. Jones, Benjamin Carter, Willie May Jones, Ted Lewis, Charles Morton, Andrew Brown and Ernest Brown, all of whom give addresses on either Hooking or Senate streets.

Two Challenges Dropped
George B. Christian, Jr., former secretary to President Harding, and James Morris were challenged but later the challenges were withdrawn. Christian is registered in the sixth ward, precinct A, and Morris in the second ward, precinct C.

Henry Lawson, clerk of the board, presided at the hearing. Other members of the board are R. H. Gast of Prospect, Elmer E. Lauer of LaRue, Ed Bender of Waldo and W. Ray Anthony of Marion.

Howard Guthrie of the law firm of Guthrie, Stettin & Guthrie and B. F. Roller of the law firm of Cohn & Roller, represented the challengers. Dr. Altmaier, at the hearing. Names of the defendants were represented by an attorney at the morning session.

Track-Walker Finds Body;

at Prospect.

Special To The Star
RADNOR, O., Oct. 31—Pinned beneath an overturned automobile, the body of William Oswald, 18-year-old Radnor high school football star, was discovered today at 7 a. m. in a ditch along the Prospect Norton road one mile north of here.

Coroner A. R. Callager of Delaware, who conducted an investigation, returned a verdict of accidental death. He said that the youth sustained internal injuries and a broken hip. He was unable to say how long he had been dead.

Mystery surrounds how the accident occurred. It is believed that the machine turned over when it struck the C. & O. railroad crossing. The car, a model T Ford touring, was damaged but little.

Returning From Game
The accident is thought to have occurred at approximately 11 p. m. last night when Oswald was on his way home from Forest, O., where he played in a football game in the afternoon. Coroner Callager said that the youth had attended a marathon dance in Marion after the game.

The body was discovered by Willey Thomas of Radnor, track-walker for the C. & O. railroad. He notified authorities and the body was not removed until after the Delaware county coroner had completed his investigation.

It was not considered likely that Oswald's injuries caused instantaneous death. When discovered, his body was pinned by the side of the car.

Funeral Sunday

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Prospect Reformed church in charge of Rev. E. H. Gradwohl. Burial will be made in the Prospect cemetery.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira R. Oswald of three miles north of here. His mother was formerly Miss Estelle Kenyon of Waldo. He was born Aug. 23, 1912. Besides the parents he is survived by four sisters and brothers, Faye, Mary, Alice and Arthur.

The body was taken to the home of his grandfather, Charles Oswald on the Prospect-Waldo road where it will remain until taken to the church for funeral services.

Oswald was a senior in the local high school and was a member of the Prospect Reformed church, the Bethlehem and Pomona granges.

WOMAN FRUSTRATES
GANG OF KIDNAPERS

Wife of Calva, M., Banker Responsible for Failure of Plot.

By The Associated Press
KEWANEE, Ill., Oct. 31—A woman's courage was today lauded by the authorities today as an important factor in bringing to an end a notorious kidnaping plot in the men who kidnaped Earl Young, wealthy banker.

The fortitude of the banker's wife in cooperating with the Illinois Bankers' association in tracking down the members of the kidnaping gang was pointed to by them as important in the success that led to the arrest of two of the conspirators. The woman, however, was somewhat reticent in accepting credit for her part in the matter by herself.

Mrs. Young's part in the effort to forestall the kidnaping—first of turning ransom letters over to J. A. Nevell of the Bankers' association while her husband was held captive—was revealed simultaneously with the confession of Vernon Ahlgren, a Calva mechanic, who told the police how the banker's abductors asked for $200,000, then wound up by getting a package containing the ransom money. It had been placed by the authorities as a decoy on a road at Leland Ill.

Ahlgren, seized yesterday at a farm where he was hiding, was quoted by the police as saying that he and his companions figured that "Mrs. Young was no scared woman" wouldn't dare double-cross us," adding that he would "tell the world that she is a smart woman."

The search for the two missing men was continued today. All of them, it is tried and continuing, may face the prospect of a long electric chair.

Gruber of east of Marion became the bride of William E. Weber of Columbus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Weber of London. Rev. Fr. Caplan officiated and the ceremony was the celebration of the low nuptial mass.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin made with a tight fitting bodice and long full skirt. Her long lace veil was fitted to her head in a cap shape and she wore white lace mitts and white slippers. Her flowers were a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Her only attendant was Miss Pauline Foreman of North State street who wore a frock of salmon colored crepe with a large lace hat and shoes in a corresponding shade. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of tea roses. Milton Sheer of Iron-ton attended Mr. Weber as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Le Ohio Chase Tavern at Worthington and later Mr. and Mrs. Weber left on a wedding trip through the southern part of the state. The bride wore for traveling a brown velvet dress with accessories to match. Upon their return they will make their home in Columbus. "Marion's stomach was often upset and he suffered a lot with headaches," says Mrs. E. M. Mendenhall, 7031 Zoeller Ave., Cleveland. "He was feverish and his breath was bad. I found he was constipated."

"A friend told me about California Fig Syrup, so I got some for Marion. It surely surprised me to see how quickly it stopped his feverishness, cleared his breath and tongue, regulated his bowels, made him a strong and energetic boy again."

The quick, safe way to cleanse and regulate the bowels of bilious, headache, constipated children is with California Fig Syrup. Give it at the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue, listlessness or feverishness. Every child loves its rich, fruity flavor and it acts without grating or discomfort. Appetite is increased by its use; digestion is assisted; weak stomach and bowels are given tone and strength.

For fifty years, doctors have endorsed this pure vegetable product. The genuine is always marked by the word California. Look for that when buying or you may get an imitation.

THE ROSE IN THE DARK

BY ROY VICKERS

CHAPTER 24
Rose's Bubble Burst

ROSE CONALDINE powdered her nose with satisfaction in the taxi. She had left Leona's room gazing, as she believed, at the stars. Everyone said she looked divinely. She did hope to see at the Club Rivoli tonight. Her luncheon engagement with Mr. Perle, her detested guardian, was at that time spoiling the day.

Tomorrow her car was to be delivered. Next week she moved into Mr. Perle's flat. She must have her first check she had sent him at all.

"I shall be rid of him soon, any day," said Rose aloud. "I'm rid of him now, really. I'm rich—rich—and I have nothing to do but spend my money."

She had, as usual, figured too low, and she was more than an hour late when she walked into Mr. Perle's office. She burst into a flood of excuses.

"Ah, yes. The traffic problem is becoming serious," agreed Mr. Perle. "Fortunately I had allowed a liberal margin for our talk to-night."

He escorted her to a quiet old room. "For further session, he had engaged a private room."

"This is the only place where we can be sure of remaining undisturbed," Mr. Perle said. "It is unfashioned, is it not?"

"I haven't had a chance of telling you yet," Rose said, "but I've arranged to share Cynthia Diffey's apartment with her, for a time anyway."

Mr. Perle ate cheese and said nothing.

"Prats you think," began Rose. But as it had always been impossible to guess what Mr. Perle was thinking, she retreated from that line of attack. "I'm of age and I suppose my money is my own to do as I like with," she tried not to make it sound impudent by adding, "And I'm sure you'll be glad enough to be rid of me. I've been an awful curse to you, I'm afraid."

It became evident that Mr. Perle intended to consume the last morsel of his cheese and crackers before he answered her. Rose twisted her hands together under the table and for the hundredth time adored herself not to be such a rabble. What did he matter? As soon as she had arranged all about her money she need never see him again.

An ancient waiter entered.

It—of the younger generation. "But, don't you see, Mary dear, that's the reason why we can't approve of your accepting this offer of Cameron's. If it were a bona fide one with no sinister shadow of Philip Veritzen behind it, our answer might be different. But young Cameron is palpably only a mouth-piece for Veritzen. And if, after you took the role, Noel's father decided to smash you, there would be plenty of opportunity for him to do it. I know it's hard, sweetheart, as I saw her lips quivering pitifully, "but not so hard to endure as other possible things might be if you took this offer."

I kept my eyes averted from hers as I finished and then pretended to be very busy with the food on my plate. I caught the sound of a stifled sob, and knew that she had dashed her hand across her eyes more than once. But it was less than a minute when she answered me in a voice swept clear of emotion.

"All right. I see everything. I might have known. You needn't worry. I'll tell him I can't take it. Or rather, will you tell him? I never want to see Colin Cameron again. I was so sure this meant a chance to earn real money and help Noel out. But I warn you, Auntie Madge. The first time I get a chance even remotely resembling that one which does not have old Phil Veritzen back of it, I'm going to grab it."

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JIMMY K. LEWIS

FRIDAY. When me and Jubilee woke up I was thinking about the Lost Bag of Trips For Two golf course, and what a good idea it would have been if he had had it when vacation started. But he is always six months behind with his ideas. If he was to fall overboard from a ship he would forget that he knew how to swim till after he was drowned. Then I thought about Gimmie's mother who is always laughing because she is alive. When she told me that I told her she seemed to think it was a joke on somebody. Then she laughed out loud and said it was a joke on her husband, and she said he was always grinning too. Because he knew it. I think it

GILEAD DROPS GAME, 33 TO 0

Delaware High Regulars Score at Will To Defeat Mounties.

Special To The Star
MT. GILEAD, Oct. 31—The Mt. Gilead High eleven met defeat at the hands of Delaware gridders at Delaware Thursday, 33 to 0. All but one of Delaware's touchdowns were scored in the first half which ended 27 to 0.

Near the end of the second quarter the Delaware subs were sent in and the fast stringers did not re-enter the game until the middle of the fourth quarter. They were sent in then to stop a Mt. Gilead march which threatened the Delaware goal line. A series of passes from Richardson to Hull carried the ball to Delaware's five yard line where they were held for downs.

The most spectacular plays of the game occurred near the end of the game when Oiler received three passes, hurled by Turkey, for gains of 30, 20 and 40 yards, to score the final touchdown of the game. Of the other four touchdowns Turkey scored two in the first quarter and one in the second. The lineups:

Central Junior Students Boost Levy in Talks

Marion school children understand and appreciate the importance of the three-mill levy. Evidence of this was shown in the voting at Central Junior High school yesterday and in the campaign speeches Wednesday morning. That the school children, if their school voting counted, would assure the success of the renewal of the tax was evinced in the more than 500 votes for and 66 against, cast in the annual school election Thursday.

Maurice Whitcomb, president-elect, endorsed the levy because he is opposed to anything which might lower the standards of the school system.

George Mason, defeated candidate for the presidency, heartily endorsed the three-mill levy.

Eurothy Jean Elliott, defeated candidate for the vice presidency, said in regard to the tax, "We are all interested in anything that will make the schools of Marion as good as any in the state or better, and we should do everything possible to have our parents and friends vote for the three-mill levy."

ATTEMPT TO BURN HOME PROVES FATAL

Portsmouth Youth Dies as Flames Envelop Gasoline-Soaked Clothes.

By Brush-Moore Leased Wire. PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 31—George U. Muller, 24, son of Albert Muller, prominent meat dealer, died in a hospital here this morning of burns sustained last night when he ignited his gasoline saturated clothes following a scuffle with his father in their home for possession of a bottle of gasoline, after he had saturated his bed with the fluid and attempted to ignite it.

During the scuffle the jar broke and the contents poured over the youth's clothes. He broke away from his father, picked up a match, lit it and tossed it on the bed.

Both the bed and the boy were enveloped in flames. His body a blazing torch, the youth ran from the house and was caught later by his father, who extinguished the flames with a hose.

The mother saw the youth take the gasoline and matches to his bedroom and fearing he intended to burn the house he notified the father. Firemen saved the home from destruction. The youth had been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

QUAKE AGAIN ROCKS SECTION OF CITY

Damage Less Than Preceding Tremors: No Lives Lost Today.

By The Associated Press. ANCONA, Italy, Oct. 31—This region was shaken again today by an earthquake, almost 24 hours after the tremors which took a number of lives and considerable property damage. Today the damage was less. A few houses and chimneys fell at Senigallia.

It appeared today that the total number of dead in yesterday's quake would approach 50. The police chief at Senigallia stated there were 35 dead persons there and nearly 300 injured. In Ancona, several persons seriously injured, died during the night. It was expected that casualties would be found in the villages lying around the two cities.

Senigallia has all the appearance of a war zone town. Carabinieri and black-shirt Fascist militia have surrounded it and are keeping out all persons except inhabitants and rescue workers.

Every street in Ancona and Senigallia was guarded by the black shirts and carabinieri with fixed bayonets. Several shots were fired this morning at suspected looters.

Many streets are filled with torrents of water from the mains.

DRY LAW, TARIFF ISSUES DISCUSSED

Cox and Former Gov. Harding of Iowa Appear at Ohio Campaign Rallies.

By The Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31—Prohibition and the tariff remained on the lips of orators in Ohio's senatorial battle last night.

While Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch, who hopes to succeed himself, reiterated his declaration that there is no chance of repealing the 18th amendment, Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland, the Democratic candidate, declared national prohibition "can and will be repealed within a few years."

McCulloch, renewing his assertion against national prohibition is a mere "political gesture," pointed out that repeal requires the approval of two-thirds of congress and three-fourths of the states. He said 37 states were dry before the 18th amendment and that there is no chance of repealing it.

Former Governor Cox, speaking at Tiffin, tore into the Republican party for the tariff bill.

A Jackson crowd was told by former Governor Harding of Iowa that Democratic leaders "who rejoice because of some unemployment are themselves 90 per cent responsible for the conditions here because of their attitude and delaying tactics in holding up passage of the last tariff bill for more than a year."

Governor Cooper, appearing with McCulloch, declared that the fight against his reelection has been "largely one of personalities and misstatements of fact as to the conduct of the present administration."

White, speaking with Bulkley, asserted that his attitude on education had been misrepresented to

Claims Movies Have Made "Hicks" A Thing of Past

By International News Service
HOLLYWOOD—He who refers to his fellow man as a "hick" is himself a hick, E. H. Griffith, director of "Holiday," believes. And the same thing applies to small towns "the hicks" are no more hicks and Griffith. The very on farms get into their automobiles drive into the nearest city and see the new pictures—some times even before we who are in the heart of picture making see the current films.

"I will venture the belief that it is almost impossible to pick the urbane from the suburbanite when you see them in a group and hear them discussing latest films and things that are happening in the world."
Before going on it might be well to explain to anyone in the audience who doesn't know just what showmen mean by "the sticks." "The sticks," Mr. and Mrs. High-brow, refers, or rather referred—before Griffith made his statement to those distant communities comparatively inaccessible, where movies and styles and such arrived several seasons late.

To prove the present non-existence of hickdom and stickdom, Griffith pointed to the popularity in the small towns of his picture, "Holiday," which some thought would be over the heads of the rural population.
Subsequently, however, it has developed that a great percentage of "Holiday's" gross is from small communities. And that is the great thing that makes any picture, or any star, a success.
Big city popularity is not enough to make a picture. It is the small towns that the producers watch, whether you agree with them or not.

One-Man Speed Trap Ready—A one-man speed trap for reckless motorists has been invented by a police inspector at The Hague, in collaboration with the director of the State Marine Institute at Leiden, and is ready for the market. The new instrument resembles a single opera-glass, with a circular base from which certain finger stops protrude. As the speeding car approaches, the traffic officer focuses his glass on it and starts a stop watch contained in the instrument. Afterwards he gets the time from the watch and by referring to a chart can ascertain the speed of the car.

Remarkable how many people are satisfied with your listening and your commendatory grunts.

THE MAN WITH THE "HAIR-TRIGGER" TEMPER

He WAS irritable at the office, and grouchy at home. His enemies increased, his friends became fewer. Then one day his doctor told him the truth. He had been handicapped by constipation for years. It had brought headaches and constantly irritating life to make him "touchy." It had stolen his energy and good nature.
His doctor suggested eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. And in a few days he was a changed man, cheery, ambitious—and on the road to success and happiness.
Constipation is so unnecessary it can be overcome by eating delicious Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This delightful, ready-to-eat cereal has been improved in both texture and taste.

KROGER-STORES

The Drought
The great drought has been broken. And, except for certain sections, it promises no great hardship to any of us.
What loss has been caused to growing crops will be just about compensated by a large surplus which was being carried over. Too, nature has provided bountifully in some sections to make up for her loss in others. There will be plenty of food for everybody, and prices should not be materially affected.
Kroger Stores will continue to supply the same high quality that you have received in the past, with the same courteous service—all with the usual Kroger economy.

HIGHWAYS GOOD FOR OHIO GRID TRAFFIC

State Roads Now Practically Free of Detours: One Remains Here.

Four Ohio college games within easy striking distance of Marion are offered Saturday to local football fans, who will find the roads to the games in good condition.

Western Reserve of Cleveland meets Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware in Wesleyan's homecoming game. Route 23 may be followed.

Heidelberg's undefeated and untied team plays Ohio Northern at Tiffin. The best route, according to the Marion Auto club, is route 23 to Upper Sandusky and route 53 to Tiffin.

Denison and Otterbein meet at Granville while Kenyon and Capital play at Gambier, near Mt. Vernon. Route 23 to Delaware and route 47 east may be taken to Granville, while route 95 may be followed to Gambier.

Detours in the Marion vicinity are coming off gradually, one on the Harding Highway west of Mansfield having been removed this week while the Harding Highway west of Marion to route 98 is expected to be thrown open to traffic within the next 10 days.

GRANGE HAS PARTY

The masquerade party and box social given by United Grange No. 1904, last night at the Claridon school building, was attended by about 100 Mrs. Paul Lawrence and Luther Mitchell won the grand march award. A social hour was enjoyed.

Moss is not what the rolling stone wants, but scenery.

OLD TIME HALLOWE'EN DISAPPEARS

ALL'S quiet except for a few grains of corn thrown hither and yon on front porches. Gone with the Buffalo Bull stories of yesteryear are the Halloween pranks that have made many a present-day parent chuckle remissly. But there's no school today and what a lot a boy can think up in one day of freedom.

There's one story from a nearby town of a gang of small boys of 20 years ago stretching a knee-height wire across a dark alley and then going up town and committing a prank that riled the marshal and leading him a merry chase that ended with his contact with the wire.

Parties with decorations "in keeping with Halloween" are about the only reminders we have these days that All Souls eve is near. Several magazines have carried pictures to remind the children that there used to be gay times on Oct. 31, and the novelty stores still sell false faces.

THE children have been unusually subdued in their maneuvers this year. One hears of some spectacular stunt pulled in a quiet residential district, but after that, things quiet down and nothing more happens.

Several porchwings have been released from their moorings, doormats have disappeared, automobile windows have been soaped, little things that the worst crank in the neighborhood can swallow with a grin. Unless this is all a passive resistance and the boys and girls are holding in steam for a bang-up tonight, the Halloween of 1939 is going to be subdued even beyond the hopes of the police department.

WEDNESDAY night there was a group of girls masquerading on Center street, but there have been no demonstrations of the art of costuming, seen yet. Something has buffaloed the kids.

As usual, the clubs, federated and the small "two tables of bridge" groups, have had their little private masquerade parties, their good times and have let the subject of Halloween drop.

Several of the merchants have decorated their windows with cornfodder and pumpkins, to remind their patrons of the fall season and the time to buy winter supplies, and several of the dry cleaning establishments have displayed masquerade costumes, but all in all, the old spirit's gone, the spirit that made today's parents such horrors in the lives of their neighborhoods.

Richard D. McAninch, cadet at Staunton Military academy, has been appointed a corporal in the military organization of the corps. McAninch is in his second year at the academy. He is the son of Mrs. S. M. McAninch of 258 Pearl street.

FIRE DESTROYS AUTO

BUCHYRUS, Oct. 21—An automobile belonging to John Wing local laundry proprietor, was destroyed by fire thought to have been caused by a short circuit this morning. The car was stored in a barn at 129 North Sandusky avenue. The barn was not damaged.

Return to the U. S. Senate

ROScoe C. McCULLOCH

In his service to the state and the nation, Senator McCulloch has proved himself to be a far-seeing statesman of the McKinley school. His stands on the Tariff, on Immigration and on all sound legislation prove him to be a friend of Labor, Agriculture and Business. Senator McCulloch said:

"The farmers of this country know that a well paid working class in our country is their chief reliance for a profitable home market for home products. I am sure that the farmers of America would be the first to oppose any movement to deprive American working men of their jobs by the transfer of our manufacturing plants to European countries where labor is so much cheaper than it is in our own country."

Capable, clean, fearless and courageous—you are voting to return to the Senate a tried and proven public servant when you cast your ballot for Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch. He deserves your vote on his record.

Loyal Daughters Hold Masquerade Party

The annual Halloween masquerade party of the Loyal Daughters class of Central Christian church was held last night at the home of Mrs. Blanche Tierney of West Church street with Mrs. O. E. Mrs. William Ebling and Mrs. M.

Creighton, Mrs. J. W. Thompson and Mrs. Frank Harold as assisting hostesses. Mrs. Fred Holden, Mrs. J. T. Bargar and Mrs. F. O. Rudolph were an entertainment committee in charge of the party. Contests were enjoyed, honors going to Mrs. James Cunningham, Mrs. William Ebling and Mrs. M.

"VOTE YES ON ROAD LEVY"

Why does Marion County need this Levy? To provide funds (beside gasoline and license fee which can be used only for maintenance) for construction, reconstruction, maintenance, repair and widening of the following:

150 Miles Hard-Surfaced Roads
310 Miles Traffic Bound Roads
2032 Bridges and Culverts

This is NOT an additional tax and will NOT raise taxes; it is a continuation of only one-half of the present Levy. What other method is there to raise funds? The bond method only. Marion County has not issued bonds for the county's share of the highway improvements for several years. Do we want to go back to this expensive method of financing our road program, or do we want to pay as we go? THINK IT OVER and you will vote for the ROAD LEVY.

Special Tax Levy for Marion County, Ohio

A tax levy for the benefit of the County of Marion, for the purpose of paying for the general construction, reconstruction, resurfacing and repair of roads and bridges in Marion County, at a rate of not to exceed one mill for a period of five years. Said tax to be levied outside of the fifteen mill limitation allowed by law.

BRITISH BUSINESS SECRETS OVERHEARD

Is Charge Concerning Eavesdropping on Trans-Atlantic Telephone Calls.

LONDON — Dismay has been caused in London business circles by reports that eavesdropping is prevalent on the trans-Atlantic telephone services and that many valuable secrets might thereby become the property of rival concerns.

British postal authorities, however, in a reassuring statement take the view that not only would illicit listening-in be attended with the greatest difficulty, but also that safety devices now in operation are a practical preventive.

"Although it is not possible in the present stage of wireless development to secure the same measure of secrecy by wireless as by wire," states the General Post Office "overhearing of the trans-Atlantic telephone service is not possible with ordinary wireless receiving sets. Under some conditions of working, a wireless expert may occasionally and spasmodically pick up fragments of speech, but it would be difficult for him to secure reception of connected conversation.

"The matter has been closely investigated by technical experts on both sides of the Atlantic and certain secrecy devices have resulted from their research. These devices are already in use on most of the trans-Atlantic circuits as a safeguard against illicit reception, and provision for their use on the remaining circuits is being rapidly pushed forward."

Nevertheless, officials do not deny that a highly skilled gang of radio operators, with vast financial resources, might overcome the new devices. But whether the game would be worth the candle, over any period of time, is another matter.

PRESSURE HITS STOCK PRICES

Strong Shares With Steady Selling; Score Reach Low Level.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Nearly all the stock market today was lower prices. There were a few exceptions to the rule notably in the case of the utilities and from the start of the steady selling pressure was in evidence in the industrial stocks.

The most persistent losers in the session were the "soft drinks," Coca Cola and Canada.

The electrical manufacturing and radio shares—with Radio Corporation at the lowest price in two years—and a few of the tobacco.

Philadelphia Steel made a good showing, despite the fact that the corporation earned only 63 cents in the third quarter and paid out 10 cents in dividends.

The stock dipped to a low for the year, at 89, but plenty of buying demand appeared.

U. S. Steel common stock under 145 for a new loss of about two points, but here also the volume of trading was light.

THESE CANDIDATES ASK YOUR VOTE ON NOV. 4

GRANT E. MOUSER JR.

CARL W. SMITH

Editor's Note—This is one of a series of stories being published by The Star to acquaint Marion county voters with local and district candidates who will be voted on at the polls Nov. 4.

MEN whose campaigns have been centered on the tariff are seeking the approval of voters at the polls next Tuesday for the office of representative to Congress.

Grant E. Mouser Jr. of 327 East Church street, incumbent, has been a proponent of the tariff while Carl W. Smith of Kenton, his Democratic opponent, has bitterly assailed the measure in practically every political address he has made.

Mouser, who voted for the recent Hawley-Smoot tariff which has been the subject of controversy throughout the nation, has defended its passage on the grounds that it is for the best interests of American business and labor, while Smith has taken the stand that it has been a slap at other countries as well as a detriment to American business.

Both men have been active in political lines for years. Mouser's father served two terms in Congress while the son is completing his first term.

PRIOR to his election two years ago, Mouser served for a time as assistant attorney general of Ohio and before that was city solicitor of Marion for nearly four years.

Smith was a candidate for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket two years ago and was postmaster at Kenton during the eight years of Wilson's administration. He has been a newspaperman all his life.

Both men enlisted for service in the World war, but neither went overseas. Smith served as a private and Mouser entered as a private but later received a second lieutenant's commission. Both are members of the American Legion.

Each is married. Mouser has three children, Gwendolyn, 11; Grant, 7, and Harold, 4, while Smith has two children, Jeanne, 8, and Burke, 5.

Mouser is a member of St. Paul's Episcopal church and Smith is a Presbyterian. Both are members of the Masons, the Elks and the Odd Fellows. In addition, Smith is a Moose and Mouser is a member of the Eagles and the Knights of Pythias.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of the death of Fred J. Hawk which took place one year ago today, October 31, 1929.

"HE WAITED PATIENTLY FOR THE LORD"

He waited, Oh, how patiently, Through months which lengthened as they passed.

And sang His song of praise, In pain and anguish, dragged the hours.

Replete with suffering still, And yet he did not murmur once, against His Holy Will.

He suffered on in patience, still Born of his faith in God, And, with a Christian's fervent zeal,

The rue-clad path he trod, A holy trust was in his soul, Which could not be dismayed And, waiting patiently for Him, He did not feel afraid.

The flames of fever redly burned Upon his wasted cheek, His dove-like eyes lit brilliantly, His hopeful lips, so meek.

And, then again a deathly chill Seized on his shivering frame, But, fire or frost, no murmuring From those poor pale lips came. Nor, was the body's suffering all He bore with saint-like grace, He knew that he must close his eyes.

Upon his dear wife's face He knew that he must leave his child— His dear babe, fatherless.

And there was anguish in the thought, Which words could not express.

But, still he felt it must be well, Since He had willed it so, And, since He did not need him here,

He willing would go, All earthly things must pass away, He only went before, And He would watch and wait for them,

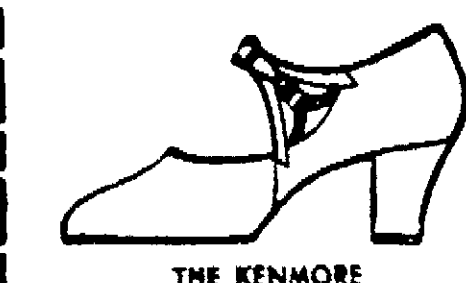

Upon the "shining shore". And so He found him, waiting, still, In patience, for His call.

And like a tired child took him home, He did not die at all, He fell asleep upon His breast, To slumber 'til the morn.

And, tenderly, the Light of Heaven will on his waking, dawn, Mrs. Alda Hawk and Son, Foster.

L. T. L. To Meet—Virginia Crottinger, temperance chairman of the Anna Gordon Loyal Temperance Legion, will be in charge of the program at a meeting of the legion Saturday afternoon with Virginia Thomas of South Vine street.

Thieves Enter Station, Break Lock from Safe. A Sinclair Oil Co. filling station at Main and Farming streets was broken into the second time in a week last night according to police reports today.

Burglars knocked the combination from a safe door in the station, but were apparently frightened away before they could gain access to the money box. Entrance to the station was made through a window. Late last week the station was burglarized of two automobile tires.

THE FRANK BROS. CO.

Do you like ORANGE-PEKOE TEA?

If you do it is important that you know these facts.

This Map of India appears on the labels of tea packets containing the world-famed India Tea.

ORANGE-PEKOE is not a kind nor a flavor of tea. It is a trade name given to a size of leaf resulting from the sifting process which tea leaves undergo during manufacture.

Orange-Pekoes are as various as thumbprints. Quality depends on whether the leaves were grown, picked and manufactured under favorable conditions and what country they came from.

Therefore, when you buy Orange-Pekoe tea, it is important that you know you are getting India Orange-Pekoe. Ask your grocer for India Orange-Pekoe. And to be doubly sure you are getting genuine India Tea, look for the Map of India trade mark (shown above) on the package of tea you buy.

The brands of tea listed below contain India Tea. And they cost you no more than the price you pay for ordinary tea.

RADIO NEWS AND PROGRAMS

Princeton Coach Predicts Grid Results in Talk

BILL ROPER for 16 years head coach of Princeton university football teams and now coaching his final season, will bring his forecast of the season to the radio audience Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the third of the Football Forecasts being broadcast by station WLW.

The veteran coach will forecast the prospects his men have in their game with the University of Chicago the next day. Later in the half hour broadcast, he will talk about college football in general, drawing his material from his rich experience in intercollegiate sport.

Roper was pressed into service just before the War in an effort to improve the condition of a failing Princeton team. His team that first year came back from early season defeats by Colgate and West Virginia to the Harvard and defeat Yale. After the war he became head coach when intercollegiate football was resumed in 1919.

Weber and Fields, the grand old men of the stage, will be the guest artists during The Radio Folies to be broadcast over the Columbia network and WABC Friday at 10 p. m.

A special Halloween program will be presented as the "R-K-O Theater of the Air" over stations associated with the NBC Friday at 10:30 p. m.

The overture to Albert Lortzing's comic opera, "Czar und Zimmermann," will open the program of Slumber Music to be broadcast over the WJZ network Friday at 11 p. m.

Arias from selected operas, including the Good Night Quartet from "The Marriage of Figaro" and the central solo Printemps Qui Commence from "Samson and Delilah" by Saint-Saens, will be heard during the Grand Opera Miniature.

Winnie Lightner Will Be Heard in Nestle Bill

WHEN Winnie Lightner, comedienne and tomboy favorite of stage and screen, appears as guest artist with Nat Brunloff and his Nestle "Chocolaters" Orchestra, she will sing both humorous and sentimental songs on the program heard Friday from 8 to 9 p. m. over station WJZ and a large NBC network.

Miss Lightner's first selection is a song of sentiment, "If I Could Be With You An Hour Tonight," her second is the humorous, "You Ought to See the Horse," and she concludes her part of the program with the love song, "I'm Yours."

Miss Lightner, a New Yorker by birth and schooling, made her first stage appearance as a vaudeville performer whose boyish clothes and maddy shoes provoked much merriment. After five years in an act of this kind, George Shaw saw her there and cast her for a role in his "Scandals," where she sang and danced for three years.

Billie Burke, former star of stage and screen and the wife of Flo Ziegfeld, will be featured on the Quakers program to be broadcast over the WJZ network Friday from 10 until 10:30 p. m. Miss Burke's talk will be another in the series "My Husband at Home."

Two numbers from "Scenes Napolitaines," typical of Italy, close the program which the Black and Gold Room Orchestra will present over the WEAF network Friday at 8:20 p. m.

A Free Fantasy after "St. James Infirmary," by David Buttolph, will be played by the orchestra during the Cities Service Concert to be broadcast over the WEAF network Friday at 8 p. m.

A program consisting entirely of Negro spirituals and old camp meeting gospel hymns will be presented as the Old Company's Program over stations associated with the NBC Friday at 7:30 p. m.

The "Meditation" from Massenet's "Thais," will be played in modern rhythm by Jules Herbureau's orchestra on the Brownbitt Footlites program to be broadcast from the NBC Chicago Studios Friday at 7:45 p. m.
